Crew planning, in one clear view.

See who is on board, when crews change and where cover is still needed. Bring vessels, availability and leave together on a visual timeline, with a view of weeks or months.

Actual planner · fictional data · 4 November 2026. Elmi changes from Alex (V) to David (M) on 16 November. Rivora needs a helmsman from that change day. Both dates and the rank initial are displayed on the bar.

How to read a timeline bar

V = Volmatroos · M = Matroos · S = Stuurman · ½ = half a change day

Today & ahead

See shortages and conflicts. Open Available now for names, ranks and availability end dates of crew available today across all fleets.

Plan with drag-and-drop

Move assignments or resize their ends. Plan full screen with compact controls. Review and confirm the changed dates.

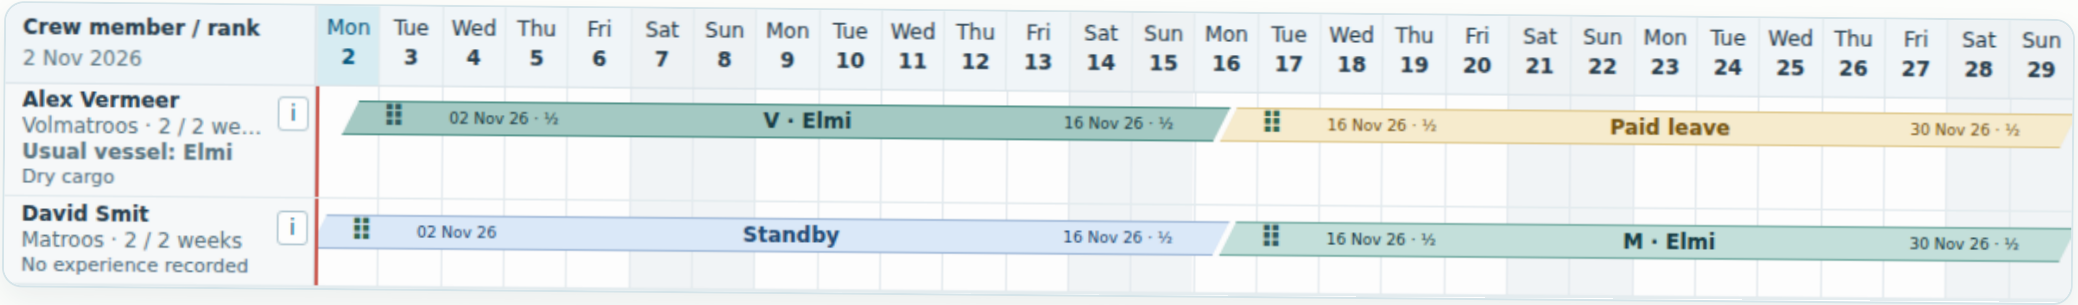

Appointments on the timeline

Plan AIMA, SAB, doctor or a custom appointment. Replacement: yes, no or to be decided. Find temporary cover when needed.

Windows offline viewer · View your most recently downloaded planning backup without an internet connection. Download an up-to-date backup in advance. Also included: backup export and restore, and a history of planning changes.

Crew changes and leave. One timeline.

Compare both crew members in the Crew member view. Each deployment bar shows the vessel name, with availability and leave visible on the same timeline.

Actual planner · fictional data · 4 November 2026. Fictional 14/14 example: Alex departs Elmi on 16 November and starts paid leave. David boards that same day. Each person counts half a day on board on the change day.

16 NOVEMBER · CHANGE DAY

Dates that meet

Alex’s end date meets David’s start date. Half days are marked ½. Review the adjoining leave period as well.

V AND M · INDIVIDUAL RANK

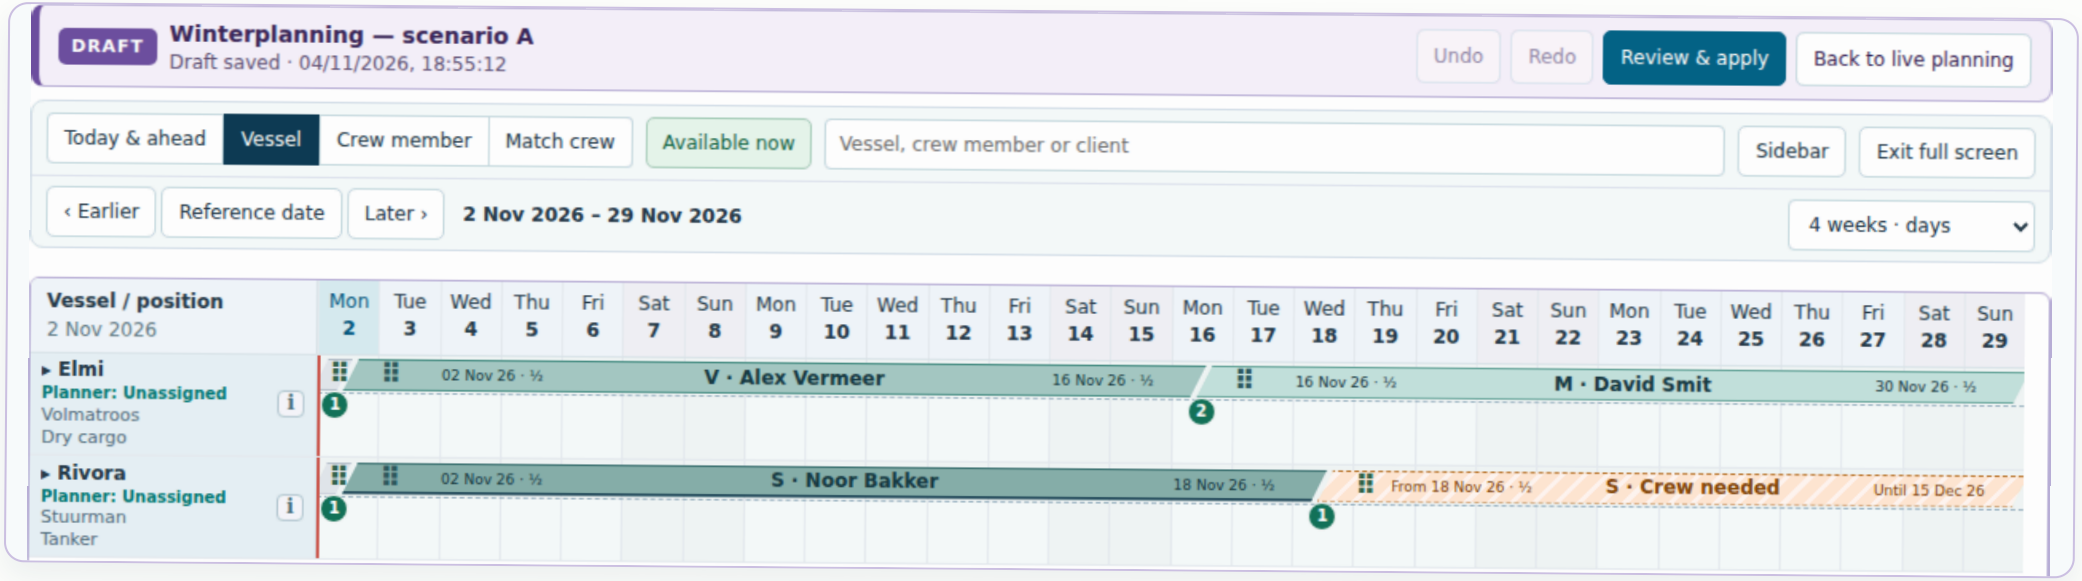

The rank stays visible

David is a Matroos (M), while the position asks for a Volmatroos. The bar keeps his own rank; a different-rank match requires your review and approval.

Weekly, monthly and custom rotations. Rank changes with an effective date preserve earlier periods.

Try a plan. Save your draft.

Plan full screen, alone or in a shared draft with colleagues. Review vessel coverage before applying changes to the live plan.

Actual planner · fictional data · 4 November 2026. Draft example: Noor stays on Rivora until 18 November instead of 16 November. Her leave and the open position move to meet that date. The live planning stays unchanged until you apply.

1. Try different options

Move or edit periods, compare vessels and check the resulting open positions and warnings.

2. Continue when it suits you

Your draft saves automatically. Share it with a colleague or reopen it later, including on another device.

3. Review, then apply

Review the changes before applying them. If the live plan has changed, conflicting edits need to be resolved.

API integration on request · Read planning data (read-only) and/or write it back to your own software. Scope, setup and access permissions depend on your software's API. The integration is set up separately.
